BEN NETTLES CONCRETE DESIGN LLC LAUNCHES BLOG

SEPTEMBER 19, 2007 - Ben Nettles Concrete Design LLC has launched a blog. Due to the need for an industry forum on concrete in the Gulf Coast region, Ben Nettles and his team found the need for a blog to discuss concrete and concrete design. The blog, bennettlesconcretedesign.blogspot.com, is a forum where people can learn about who Ben Nettles Concrete Design LLC are, learn about projects they are currently, look at old images from past projects, and it is a place where people can ask Ben Nettles himself questions on concrete and concrete design.

The blog is also a way for Ben Nettles to introduce concrete to people who did not view it as an option in their home or business for a variety of uses: counter tops, furniture, reception areas, outdoor kitchen stations and planters. Also, Ben Nettles is excited to debut lite.box, concrete design with the use of fiber optics, and blog readers will get a first glance on bennettlesconcretedesign.blogspot.com.

###

Ben Nettles Concrete Design LLC is a concrete design company founded in 2005 and owned and operated by Ben Nettles. His team works with concrete in a variety of mediums including interior and exterior spaces as well as furniture and landscape design.
